

Lisa DePatie

CORPORATE WELLNESS ADVOCATE

Lisa DePatie, a credentialed HR Professional and Health Promotion Professional with doTERRA, has an authentic servant heart, with passion and purpose to be of service to her clients and the community. She has seen the pain that toxicity brings people, is an empathetic listener and provides solutions to encourage and build up others to live with vitality and natural wellbeing. She lives in Cape Coral, FL with her husband of 34 years, helps care for her elderly mother, and has two grown children living in the Midwest. As a lifelong learner, she will search out answers for others to be the Best Version of Yourself.

Lisa is also launching a program called Well@Work with presentations available for corporate wellness. She shares information and strategy on the importance of wellness in the workplace.
